What are the benefits of Corporate Membership?

Join over 160 Corporate Members companies and see what membership has to offer!

Corporate membership in BACnet International provides unique and valuable benefits to manufacturers and service providers in the controls, building automation and energy management industries. Its information services make it easy to keep up with the growth and evolution in the industry and with BACnet technology. BACnet International membership enhances a supplier's credibility with potential customers and partners while providing a variety of opportunities for exposure and promotion. Corporate membership also gives manufacturers access to deep discounts on product testing, BTL Certification, and a variety of third-party development tools.
